SALE OF JAMAICA GINGER VIOLATES THE BROOKS LAW

Heavy Sentences Imposed On a Number of Offenders in Court

PAY FINE AND GO TO JAIL

Dispensers of Jamaica ginger, which contains "not over 94 per cent alcohol," and which anaalysis often shows contains red pepper instead of ginger, were in trouble before Judge J. A. McIlvaine in the Washington court on Monday. In each case the minimum sentence was imposed and the question of a parole upon payment of fine and costs, will be taken up later.

The first to face Judge McIlvaine was John Kuhran of VanVoorhis, a barber, who made a "mistake" when he, decided to include in some barber supplies that he was purchasing in Pittsburg acase of Jamaica ginger containing 36 bottles. He was induced, he said, by a wholesaler to buy acase of the stuff. Kuhran was selling it for cramps, he said. One of his customers, it appears, must have had abad case of cramps, as he purchased some five or six bottes in one day. He mixed the ginger with pop and it is alleged he got something with considerable "kick." Consequently when hewent home he had trouble with his wife. She then prosecuted Kuhran. He was sentenced to pay thecosts, a fine of $550 and to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for three months and 20 days.

Thomas Zamiska, of Cokeburg, had laid in a large supply of Jamaica ginger. Eight cases containing 72 bottles each were confiscated at his place. His fine was $550, to which will be added the costs and three months and 20 days imprisonment. Sam Horwitz of Cokeburg, was given asimilar sentence for selling ginger. There were also two women offenders, each of whom was given the minimum sentence of $500 fine and three months in jail.

These convictions are evidence that the county courts consider the sale of Jamaica ginger in violation of the Brooks license law of the state and are going to impose sentences in accordance with the law. The sale of ginger has been widespread, but this action on the part of the court is likely to restrict its use.

ASSESSED COSTS FOR VIOLATING HEALTH LAWS.

Charles Peterson, of 922 Meadow avenue, was before Burgess Woodward last evening, charged by Health Officer Darby with violation of the health and sanitation laws. The defendant was found guilty of the charge, but was allowed to go after having the costs of the prosecution assessed against him, as well as being required to place his premises in a sanitary condition.

SCOTCH PICNIC ON THE 7th OF AUGUST

Arrangements have been made for the annual picnic of the Scottish societies at Kennywood park on Saturday, August 7th. Committees are now preparing the program for the day, which is expected to measure up to those of former years. These events are always attended by thousands of people, and the competition in the various events are always looked forward to with the greatest interest.

HEAVY FINE FOR BREAKING QUARANTINE

Charged with "flagrant violation of the quarantine laws of the commonwealth," George Dawson of 405 Washington avenue, was summoned before Justice of the Peace Whitehead, on Monday evening. Health Officer Wm. Darby was the prosecutor, who explained the provisions of the laws of 1919 with reference to health and sanitation regulations and quarantines. The defendant entered a plea of guilty and the Justice imposed a fine of $50 and costs which were paid.

It is charged that Mr. Dawson, whose son has been quarantined on account of an attack of the measles took his family on Saurday and spent two days with friends in Burgettstown. At the time the Dawson home had been under quarantine for eight days and according to law the family should have observed the regulations 16 days. Upon their return home Monday Mr. Darby, the health officer, made the information before Justice Whitehead, who imposed the fine noted above.

The health officer this morning stated that Mr. Dawson had been summoned to appear before Burgess Woodward this evening because of his refusal to allow the health authorities to regulate his house and have it thoroughly cleansed. According to the health laws of 1919, as passed by the Assembly, it made obligatory on the part of health boards and officers, in such cases, to see that houses under quarantine are properly cleansed and disinfected and placed under sanitary regulations. In addition, where quarantine has been broken, it is necessary to continue the quarantine for the required period with a penalty of 14 days if necessary. In case of a resistance on the part of the occupant of the house the health authorities can call upon the police department to furnish an officer to enforce the regulations, and the quarantine made absolute.

The board of health has also communicated with Harrisburg and made known to them the existing conditions and reporting the name of the family with whom Mr. Dawson and his family visited over Sunday.

WANT ALL NAMES ON THE REGISTRY LIST

The assessors and registry assessors of Washington county have been instructed to exercise unusual care in looking after the assessment and registration of voters this year in order that every one entitled to cast a vote this fall shall have the privilege.

This being a presidential year and the issues of the coming campaign being so clearly defined, the voters themselves are showing much interest in looking after their registration and payment of their taxes.

The registry assessors will be at the various polling places on the last day of August and the first day of September for the purpose of adding to their books the names of any persons omitted or who may have come into the districts since the May registration was completed.

The suffrage amendment has not yet received the ratification of the required number of states, but if action is taken in time to permit the women to participate in the election this fall, the county commissioners will see to it that the required steps be taken in Washington county to properly register the women voters so that they may exercise their rights of franchise on November 2.

I will collect that rent, positively in advance and guarantee no vacancies. Clyde B. Cope, Real Estate and Insurance. 315 McKean avenue. 21-tf*

MANY COMPLIMENTS FOR ELKS CLUB HOUSE

The Elks Club was the center of interest Monday afternoon and evening to members of Charleroi Lodge No. 494 and their friends, as the new addition which was only completed a few days ago was thrown open to public inspection. The addition is one-story, with basement under the entire structure. This basement is to be fitted up for a splendid new billiard room, which in addition to the room already given over for that purpose will give the members one of the finest amusement rooms in the valley. They have installed a large refrigerating plant in the basement, which will take care of all food supplies for the dining room, as well as for the new and modern soda fountain installed in the dining room above. This new dining room is something out of the ordinary so arranged that private parties or public banquets can be held therein. Here also may be held cabarets of a higher order, and this evening the first informal dance will be given in this new addition. The furnishings and fittings of the new room are exquisite in detail and are set off in striking fashion by the two handsome fireplaces built of red tapestry brick, while Victrolas help make up the dancing equipment. The new as well as the older part of the club rooms, which have been completely renovated and redecorated, came in for many compliments from visitors, who were more than pleased with the handsome appearance of the home of the Charleroi Elks.

CHANGE IN SYSTEM ON W. & W. ROAD

Following out a new policy of the recently created Pennsylvania Railroad system, whereby the short line railroads heretofore controlled by the Pennsylvania interests, but operated under an independent organization, will be operated in connection with the larger divisions, the Waynesburg and Washington railroad, the narrow guage between the two towns, and familiarly known as the "Waynie," operated for over 40 years by a local organization, will have its superintendent's office at Waynesburg abolished and in the future the road will be operated from the Panhandle offices in Pittsburgh. Employees of the superintendent's office at Waynesburg whose services are not needed there will be assigned to other points on the system.

PREPARATION FOR THE QUINQUENNIAL REUNION

The executive committee of the several families who organized five years ago to promote the good feeling and social ammendments, past, present and future, met at the Wilbur Hotel Saturday, 17th, and arranged for celebrating the event on Saturday, September fourth, at Oakland Park. A meeting of the executive committee of the several families is called for Saturday July 31st at the Wilbur Hotel to complete the arrangements.

WAGE DECISION HAS BEEN HANDED DOWN

The Railway Labor Board at Chicago this morning handed down their decision with reference to an increase in wages of railroad men throughout the country. The decision provides for increases ranging from 5 cents an hour, which is the lowest, to 15 cents an hour, or approximately about $600,000,000 per year to the wages of the men. The representatives of railroad men now in Chicago to receive the announcement inmediately went into session to pass upon the question of accepting or rejecting the increases given. One Union official was quoted as saying he believed the [illegible] would be accepted.

PROMINENT MEN ALLEGED TO BE INVOLVED IN WHISKEY THEFT

Are Under Bond for Hearing Before Federal Officials Next Week

EIGHT BARRELS WERE TAKEN

Nine men, very prominent in their home community, are being held under bond by Federal authorities for a hearing in Pittsburg next week, on a charge of having been connected with the theft of eight barrels of bonded whiskey from the warehouse of the Vandergrifft Distilling Company Inc. at Centerville station, East Bethlehem township. The arrest of these men has caused considerable comment in that community.

The defendants include Superintendent Locke of the Vesta 5 mine of the Vesta Coal company; Harry Jenkins, a pit boss at this mine; A. J. Hayett, coal and iron policeman of the Vesta Coal company; Fred Anderson, constable of East Bethlehem township; Peter Bonilla, who, it is said, transported the liquor from the warehouse to where it was kept; Duncan Lyons and William Crockett, and two men named Edwards, one living in California and the other at Vesta Heights. In additon to the arrest of these men there was confiscated a horse and wagon, said to be the property of the Vesta Coal company, which horse and wagon were used to transport the liquor. In this wagon it is said Superintendent Locke took two barrels of the liquor to his home.

The theft, it is understood, occurred about the 27th of June. The warehouse was broken open, the eight barrels of whiskey were placed on the wagon, it is said, and taken to Vesta Heights, and from there distributed. It is said that over July 4th there was considerable of a celebration with some of this liquor. It is also said that one of the men implicated confessed to the theft and that the government has direct evidence against the men now under bond.

The Vandergrift Distilery, it will be recalled, was robbed a number of months ago of a large quantity of liquor. Augustino Spinosaa suspected of thetheft, was traced to Europe arrested there, brought back to this country, and sentenced to the penitentiary.

The fact that the men alleged to be connected with this latest robbery are coal officials and state and county officers has added an unusual interest to theaffair.

[illegible]

Presidents [illegible] look over the world with [illegible] listing [illegible] solutions as to the remedy. [illegible] great troubles [illegible] wrong deals. The people have been [illegible] emphasis on wealth and material prosperity. They have neglected the really vital things, like health and happiness and generosity and community welfare. They [illegible] will bring happiness, but they rarely do.

The sum of human happiness would be the greatest where the entire community was raised to a level of moderate comfort, without excessive riches belonging to any one. But as the failure of many people to attain this moderate comfort is due to their own lack of forethought, industry and thrift, no social panacea can remedy this defect.

The one thing that can be done toward solving these problems is to teach the young people that their search after wealth should not be the principal end in life. They should be shown that the people who find the highest happiness are those that serve their community and their fellow men. The person who devotes his entire time and energy and consecrates his thought on personal acquisition is rarely happy.

The normal minded man works earnestly for the success of his own business. But he is willing to devote a reasonable proportion of his time to work for civic causes. He considers thoughtfully the needs of his less fortunate neighbors, and is generous with his help for those who have had misfortune.

He feels bound to give liberally to the support of the great philantrophic causes of the nation and the world, which are helping to life up submerged elements and spread abroad christianity and education. A man who has lived that kind of life can take some kind of satisfaction in it, and he will never lack for friendship.

EDUCATION.

Without question the most important single activity in the commonwealth is the education of the young. There is a great deal of flapdoodle and also considerable hard common sense fed to the public concerning this matter. Herbert Spencer says: "To prepare us for complete living is the function which education has to discharge," and our friend Noah Webster says that it is "the act or process of training." Now in order that a process of training may fit a man or woman for complete living, it is obvious that education should mould a child's character, obliterating or disciplining his or her faults while at the same time caling out the best of every mental and physical maculty. A well balanced mind in a well balanced body is proof that the owner has received a good education. A man or woman mentaly warped or physically debilitated has been ecrily educated. This is an age of specialism and there is a great hue and cry about training each child in a special way and not cramming his noodle with a lot of other things. Carried out to the logical conclusion such a policy would result in a race of ill-mannered enthusiasts. Only the man of great genius possesses a universal grasp of things; he is the ideal in education; but it is better to shoot at a star and strike a mountaintop than grovel in the mud. Every profession and art and business is fed from every [illegible] and there are [illegible] inexplicably con- [illegible] of binding [illegible] some of [illegible] but nonetheless [illegible] Whenever you learn [illegible] fellow's [illegible] nothing that will [illegible] use to you

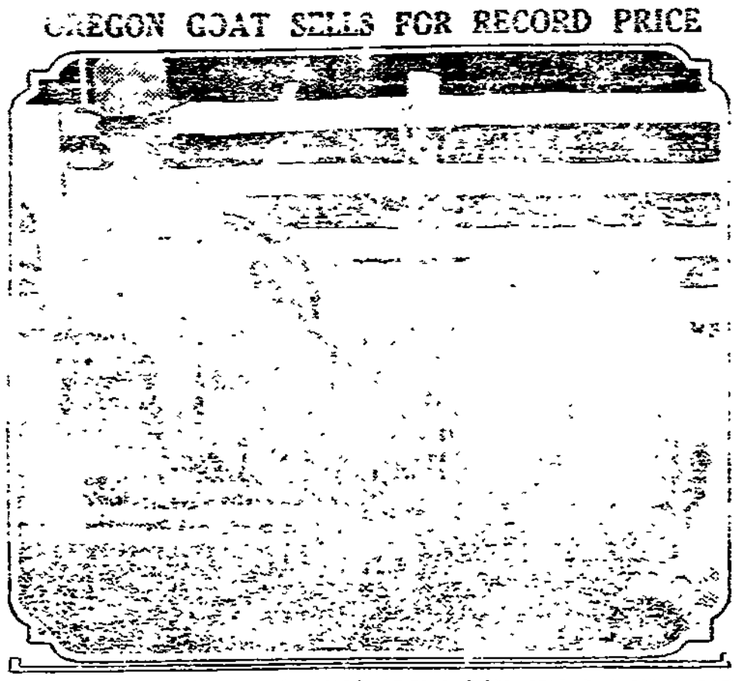
OREGON GOAT SELLS FOR RECORD PRICE



An Oregon bred and raised Angora billy goat has set a new record, selling at auction for $1750 at the Goat Raisers' Show, held in San Angelo, Tex., recently, the highest price ever paid for a goat. He is a two-year-old, raised by William Riddle of Monmouth, Ore., and sold to B. M Halbert of Sonora, Tex. Mr. Riddle is holding the goat in the picture above.

[illegible] therefore, that the names of Indians should be placed on the list of nominees for New York's Hall of Fame. It is surprising, indeed, that this has not been done before for such Indian names as Hiawatha, Tecumseh, King Phillip, Powhatan, Pocahontas, Osceola, Sitting Bull, etc., are more widely known than the names of some of the white men placed from time to time on the Hall of Fame's list of nominees.

The two Indian names now placed on the list for consideration are Hiawatha and Dekanawida. The name of the first named chief has been carried far and perhaps made imperishable by means of Longfellow's celebrated poem. Dekanawida is less generally known than some of the Indians mentioned above, but he was one of the greatest of chiefs. He planned and with the aid of Hiawathaa founded the powerful confederation of the five Iroquois tribes or "five nations." He is said to have won his eminence not from heredity but from merit displaying remarkable astuteness in diplomacy and much wisdom in government. History will preserve the names of a number of Indian chiefs, and certainly there ought to be at least one representative of the original American race in the Hall of Fame.

AUTO HITS POLE AT BLACK DIAMOND

An automobile accident occurred at Black Diamond on Sunday when a car skidded and struck a telephone pole. The occupants of the car, Edward Correll, and three Melendyak brothers, from New Philadelphia, O., on their way to visit friends in Donora, were all cut by flying glass, Correll being the more seriously injured of the quartet. He was taken to the Mercy hospital, where it was found that a piece of glass had penetrated his abdomen. In spite of his injuries he returned home in the evening with his companions.

HENRY W. NICKESON DIES IN INDIANA

Borough Clerk Ira L. Nickeson received word on Monday of the death of his brother, Henry W. Nickeson at his home in Columbus, Indiana, which occurred on Friday last, funeral services being held on Sunday. Mr. Nickeson visited his brother here in Charleroi last summer, as well as with other relatives and friends in the county. He was a veteran of the civil war, having served in Co. A 85th Pennsylvania Infantry.

LAKE COAL SHIPMENTS COMPARATIVELY SMALL

Shipments of coal to lake ports for the Northwest [illegible] comparatively small season. From reports now at hand it seems that there has already been shipped to that section 4,684,000 tons as compared with 9,470,000 for the period in 1918 and 10,990,000 in 1919. With more than one-third of the season of navigation gone the lake movement is 50 per cent behind 1918 and 57 per cent behind that of 1919.

NATURAL GAS RATES ARE GOING HIGHER

Rates for natural gas service furnished by the Manufacturers Light and Heat company in Washington, Allegheny and several other counties will be increased from 35 to 45 cents for 1,000 cubic feet, under a new tariff of rates filed with the public service commission at Harrisburg, effective July 21.

CARPENTERS' STRIKE IS FINALLY SETTLED

The carpenters' strike, which has been in effect in Pittsburgh since last May, has been finally settled, and it was expected that all of these tradesmen would be back at work this morning. By the terms of the new scale the men will receive $1.20 an hour until the 15th of September, and after that time $1.25 an hour until the expiration of the scale on the first day of May next. The terms call for eight hours per day for five days of the week, and a half day on Saturday. All work on Saturday afternoon, Sunday, Memorial, Thanksgiving and Christmas is to be paid for at double time. About 4,000 men are effected by the terms of the scale.

A Happy, Healthy Wife

is the greatest inspiration a man can have and the life of the family, yet how many homes in this fair land are blighted by the ill health of wife and mother!

It may be backaches, headaches, the tortures of a displacement, or some ailment peculiar to her sex which makes life a burden. Every woman in this condition should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs to restore her to health and happiness.

The weather man seems to be scrambled in his dates. At least he appears to be undecided as to the brand of weather that should be handed out these days.

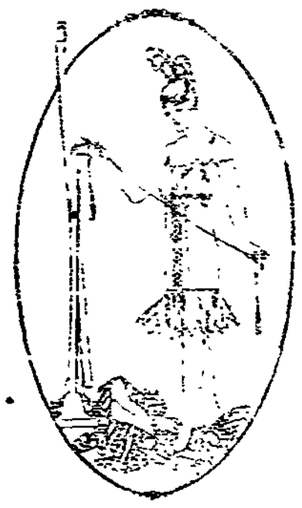
"The intimate article of dress known as the corset which the majority of women wear but know very little about"

Alice S. Cutler, M. D.

IN this pertinent way the well-known medical authority, Alice S. Cutler, M. D., describes the most important garment in the wardrobe of women.

"Buy your corset carefully," warns Dr. Cutler. "No one wants to be ill, and when women realize that the constant wearing of an ill-fitting corset helps to keep our hospitals open they will insist on being properly fitted to corsets instead of buying them hit or miss."

We unreservedly recommend Gossard Corsets, the original front-lacing corsets, as the complete expression of modern corsetry. Every Gossard Corset is hygienically correct. If properly fitted to the figure for which it was designed, and carefully adjusted each time it is worn, it will mould that figure to the ideal proportions of its type. It will give a priceless comfort. It will safeguard the wearer against those bodily ailments that are often the result of improper corsetry. It will render a wearing service that alone is worth the price paid for the garment.



If possible, the new Spring and Summer Gossards are superior to those of the past season, which were generally acknowledged to be without equal in meeting the needs of active womanhood from the standpoint of comfort, hygiene, wear and figure improvement.

Our highly specialized fitted service refers to our sincere appreciation of the important relation a correctly fitted corset bears to your health, and to that perfect figure poise that gives the elusive charm of style.

HOW MUCH GAS ACROSS CONTINENT?

Automobile Industry is Keenly Interested in 3,000 Mile Economy Contest

25 DRIVERS—ELEVEN STATES

Unusual Relay Run to Prove Economy and Stamina Will be Made By an Overland

To determine for the automobile industry and the motor buying public the comparative merits of the light-weight car as regards its stamina and economy in a continued run of 3,300 miles with a relay of 25 drivers at the wheel, a trans-continental economy run will be started from New York at midnight Sunday, July 18th.

The car will travel day and night continuously until at the end of the journey it noses its way down Market street in San Francisco. Eleven states will be spanned. Throughout the journey a careful and constantly checked tally will be kept of the oil and gasoline used to determine a national measure of economy and stamina for the light-weight motor car.

For this unusual cross-country demonstration, a stock Overland on Triplex Springs will be used. W. D. Stewart, manager of the New York branch of Willys Overland starts the car on its westward way. Observers will trail the standard-setting Overland in another car.

The Overland will then be relayed across the United States, a different driver taking the wheel in each Overland distributor's territory traversed.

This relay driving is a new feature in automobile runs. The territory of at least 25 Overland distributors will be crossed. This will provide at least 25 different drivers for the car. None of these men will ever before have sat at the wheel of this Overland. No two men drive alike. The importance of the test, therefore, will be a demonstration of what the average driver could expect to get in low-cost operation in a 3,300 mile drive, taking him through all conditions of weather and over roads that vary from the asphalt of city streets to treacherous mountain trails.

The highly-skilled and expert contest driver's ability to get an extra mile from the last drops of gasoline will be replaced in this run by the common fortunes of the average motorist.

The Overland run is expected to answer several questions of immediate interest to the auto public. First: How much gas will be needed to carry this car in a run almost equal to year's usage by the average driver? Second: How much oil will be needed propery to lubricate the mechanism and keep it, as near as lubrication can trouble-free? Third: Isn't it true that the light car has now been so developed and perfected that it is not only ideal for quick handling and economical use in the tangled city traffic but that it also has all the stamina necessary for the roughest trans-continental travel with no sacrifice of its economy dvantages? 39t1

BUG-OLOGY

What do you call them?

Bedbug (Cimex lectularius). The origin of the name bedbug is unknown, but is supposed to be naturally suggested as it is descriptive. There are many local names for these parasites, as for illustration, around Boston they are called "Chinches," from Baltimore comes the name "Mahogany Flat," in New York they are styled as "Red Coats," around Pittsburgh they are called "Pesky Devils," in Cincinnati and the South, "Nightriders," in St. Louis and Chicago district, "Crimson Ramblers," the great West "Pilgrims." The old saying, "the bedbug has no teeth, but they get there just the same," is correct. Instead of teeth they possess a piercing and suckling beak to draw and rob you of your blood for their own body.

Bedbugs, no matter what you may call them, or where they came from, science has found a way to rid them if you will use faithfully the new chemical Pesky Devils Quietus "P. D. Q." A 35c package makes one quart, enough to kill a million bedbugs, roaches, fleas, ants or cooties, and their eggs as well. P. D. Q. will not injure bedding, and each package contains a patent spout to enable you to get them in the hard-to-get-at-places. Impossible for Pesky Devils to exist where P. D. Q. is used.

PROMINENT KNIGHT OF PYTHIAS CONGRATULATES "ROSE FORMULA R-11"

W. M. Smith, of Mingo Junction, Ohio, Prominent Knight of Pythias, Declares Rose Formula R-11 Relieves All Stomach Troubles.

Mr. W. M. Smith of Mingo Junction, Ohio, who is well known in that city as a man of extreme public views, relates below the benefits derived from his use of The Rose Formula R-11. Mr. Smith is a member of the Mingo Junction Lodge of the Knights of Pythias and a man of such high standing in the community that his word must be considered.

Mr. Smith stated: "For four long years I have tried without success to get relief from stomach trouble. The best physicians in and around Mingo Junction failed to accomplish anything. I would suffer from gas and bloating after eating with severe pains in my back and around my kidneys. I would get dizzy and [illegible] itself."

[illegible] Formula R-11 [illegible] I want to say right now that before I had taken all of the first bottle I was completely relieved. I have just bought two more bottles and never intend to be without it in the future. It is the Ace of all medicines and I think the least I can do is to tell others of its wonderful merits. I know a great many will be skeptical as I myself was, but all they need do is try it and they will be as enthusiastic as I am. Rose Formula R-11 should'nt be thought of as any ordinary medicine for it is in a class by itself."

Rose Formula R-11 knocks that "Spring Fever" highern'a kite. Your druggist has it or get a bottle today from Hennings' Drug Store.

SKIN DISEASES

ARE EXPELLED QUICKEST BY AN ANTISEPTIC APPLICATION

The application should also be healing. Doesn't your sound judgment tell you that this is true? F. J. John sells a salve called SIM-CO which is an antiseptic application that just fills the bill. It does not soil the skin; yet it is a most powerful antiseptic and an active healing ointment. Eczema, salt rheum, tetter and similar skin affections disappear with the aid of SIM-CO SALVE or F. J. John who is the agent is authorized to return to you the purchase price.

REACHED THE next county.
AND WHILE I'm not.
EASILY EXCITED.
I GUESS I was helping.
THE PITCHER bean.
THAT CLEAN-UP hitter.
AND MY good south paw.
HIT A fat fan.
RIGHT IN the vestibule.
AND HE said "Phooo.
A FOUL tip.
RIGHT ON my last cigar."
AND I was sorry.
AND GAVE him one.
OF MY cigarettes.
AND HE saw the package.
THAT I took it from.
AND SMILED and said.
"THEY SATISFY!
AND THAT smoke you smashed.
WAS ONE my wife.
BOUGHT AT a bargain.
SO THAT makes it.
A SATISFY.

AND AFTER that.
I EVEN saw him.
